Jim was a great friend, fellow service engineer and my supervisor when I worked for GE Medical systems in Albany, NY. We shared many stories, a few fishing trips and lots of time together on service calls fixing CT and Nuclear medicine equipment over a period of 9 years. Jim always had something interesting to discuss. We had plenty of serious conversations, but plenty of uplifting amusing conversations as well. Jim had a great sense of humor and was quick with a laugh or a smile. I know that along with the laughs, Jim brought inspiration into the lives of people he bumped into along his life's path. His example of conquering adversity affected me deeply in a positive way. Jim - we will miss your wit, humor and insights -

Dear Barbara: Ben told me the heart breaking news. Jim has left us entirely too soon. Jim amazed me -- he managed to transcend his own suffering to give encouragement, love and support to so many people. I hope you and your family -- and what a family you two have had -- can at least rest assured that Jim is being held in the arms of his loving God. With sincere sympathy, Judith Galardi
