He had a beautiful smile and loved to make people laugh. A free spirit, his beliefs were Peace, Love and Karma. Spencer's wishes would be that his friends find a path and follow their dreams.

In addition to his mother and her good friend Joe Engers, Spencer is survived by his second mom, Aunt Jennifer Weaver and her husband Ken of Wilmington. ; cousin and best friend Jennie Sutton and her husband Rod and their children Jenna and Jason of Wilmington, DE; Cousin Fred Palmer and his wife Vlora and their daughter Lily of Wilmington, DE; an uncle, Walter Ashing and his wife Dona of Wilmington, DE; and friends Sherman Carter, Jiho Jung, Ryan Pedrick and many more.

Spencer was preceded in death by Grandmom and grandpop Margaret and Fred Ashing; his uncle Federick Ashing, and his good friend and godfather Dennis Reardon.

The family would like to express their thanks for the many prayers and thoughts by friends and neighbors.

Sadly, I never met Spencer but I do know you, Peggy, so surely he was lovingly welcomed into Heaven and he visits you regularly in your dreams. There is no bond like that between mother and child and death would never break it. I'm so sorry for your loss and that part of your heart which can never be filled by another. If you ever need anyone, no matter how many years pass, I will be there for you.-- Karen O'Keefe

Just learned of the terrible events that led to the death of this young "cousin" and want the family to know that even in California, there are those who care. I hope that today brings one more step towards peace for your family and friends. Second cousin twice removed, but I still care about my mother's (Winifred Smith Beaver)cousin Fred and his family.
