Melvin & Pat...We were so shocked and saddened to hear about the passing of Angie. It has been a long time since we have seen each other, but I do remember when Angie was born(that cute little baby with red hair and freckles). She looked just like you, Melvin!! May all the good times and memories you have had with Angie help to ease your pain.

Melvin & Pat, It feels like forever since I have seen you guys. Just wanted to say that my thoughts and prayer are with you during this difficult time. Angie and I shared a lot of good times together, many of those I will never forget. My heart was sickened when I heard about her. God now has another angel in heaven with him looking over us. She will always be remembered and never forgotten.

Buddy and Pat, no parent should have to go through this. My heart bleeds for the both of you. Angie's fire is certainly not out though. Her amazing sense of humor is going to keep all those angels on their toes. Don't be surprised if you go to sit down one day to find a whoopie cushion under your seat. I not only speak for myself, but for Cheese, Chrissy, and Jessie, when I say how terribly she will be missed. xo Jaime and Taylor Johnson

Melvin & Pat,I was so heart sickened when I heard about Angie. This, like so much in life, does not make sense. Please know that we are here for you and that our Heavenly Father is watching you very closely too. Take comfort in the fact that you are not alone as you go through the stages of grief. If you need anything, we are a phone call away.

~ The Rose Beyond the Wall ~Near a shady wall a rose once grew, Budded and blossomed in God's free light, Watered and fed by the morning dew, Shedding its sweetness day and night.As it grew and blossomed fair and tall, Slowly rising to loftier height, It came to a crevice in the wall Through which there shone a beam of light.Onward it crept with added strength With never a thought of fear or pride, It followed the light through the crevice's length And unfolded itself on the other side.The light, the dew, the broadening view Were found the same as they were before, And it lost itself in beauties new, Breathing its fragrance more and more.Shall claim of death cause us to grieve And make our courage faint and fall?Nay! Let us faith and hope receive-- The rose still grows beyond the wall,Scattering fragrance far and wide Just as it did in days of yore, Just as it did on the other side, Just as it will forevermore.~ A.L. Frink ~Mr. & Mrs. Hennessy,I can't imagine the grief and pain you must be feeling. Though I wish I could offer some profound words of comfort, mere words can't begin to console you during this difficult time. Angie was a unique and gifted person whom I had the privilege of knowing as a friend. Although we lost contact, I had hope that one day we would renew our friendship. Never in the depths of my imagination would I have dreamed that I would see her again in the manner in which I did. Her memory will be with me always and you shall remain in my prayers. My God's grace and mercy be with you and grant you peace.

Melvin and Pat, my heart absolutely aches for you at this horrible loss. Just a couple of weeks ago Angie was telling me how lucky she felt to have had you for parents? she adored you, both. We were at Tijuana Taxi, listening to Megan Ernokovich play and sing. Angie and I talked a long time. She was a great conversationalist. She said she was glad to have the opportunity to begin a new career, and she was anxious to get to work again. I asked what she wanted to do next career-wise. She spoke at length about the possibility of her becoming a private investigator, and said she'd always thought that would be a cool job. I told her I thought she would make a good one. When Charlie and I offered her a ride home, she insisted on us coming upstairs to meet her hubby (again!) and so she could show us their new apartment overlooking the canal. She showed me her record collection. She was so happy. She was absolutely glowing. And I will always remember her as she was that day. She was a joy to be around. You did a great job raising her. God bless you as you face the coming days and weeks. Please let me know if there is anything I can do. You are in our prayers. Nancy Stenger Joseph (& Charlie)

I am so very sorry to hear of the loss of Angela. Please accept my deepest sympathies for I too know the pain of losing someone you love. May you find comfort in knowing that very soon, our loving Heavenly Father Jehovah promises us that all those in the 'memorial tombs' will hear the voice of his son Christ Jesus and 'come out' by means of the resurrection. (John 5:28, 29). What a joyful time that will be!
