Scott was a brother to me. I am so sorry for the loss to his family. I am lost for words. Friends like Scott are hard to come by. I can remember the many good times we had on Mt Vernon Ave back in the 70's. I have a burn mark on my left arm from where we both played a stupid game with cigarettes called chicken...neither of us would move.....the thing went out twice on us. I will always have something to remember him by that I can't lose, it was stupid at the time we did it but now it will mean true friendship from a person I thought of as a little brother. I will see you one day Scott, but no more chicken. Goodbye my friend and brother. Love you dude
