So sorry to hear of Laura's passing. How well I remember sharing times when we went to Brooklyn Church in Baltimore. We spent lots of times singing and laughing together. God be with you in your time of loss. Lois Dean Montgomery

Dear dear Laura I miss you already, my Cuz and my very close friend since I was Adopted into the bowen family at 3 yrs old, but we became much more than just Cousins. He went to church together and did so many things together, but as we Talk recently, about our escapades, we both remembered two. One was wake in the home, many students yrs ago. Our moms best friend was laid out in living room. I Had never seen a body or a coffin. When we went in and stood their your said "she's breathing ", I watched and believed you, we ran out of house. We both needed out Mom's to calm us down. The second one was at the funeral of our mothers husband, You were driving in procession and hit a dog! We could stop without causing a wreck We heard all the tires that ran over poor dog. We were screaming and crying. Our Mom's couldn't figure out why we were so upset about our uncle's death. I am sad but content that your life was so good, that you and Jo ann shared so many joyous years together and I know you're pain free now. Guess God needed a new piano player for the choir of angels. Love and miss you. Also special mention to join ann , sister, and allan, nephew for all you've been through Taken care of Laura constantly. I know your grief is great, but you gave her all your Love everyday. See you later dear friend.

The last time we saw you, Laura and JoAnn, we were sitting in my mom's living room in Ocean Pines. Laura was playing the piano, and we were all singing carols, hymns and show tunes. What a special day that was! We also have fond memories of the singing Santa hidden in the shower of your guest bathroom!, going to camp, and the world's best coconut cake. It comforts us to know that my mom must be with you now, Laura. Our thoughts are with JoAnn and Allen. Wish we could be with you at this sad time. Peggy and Peter Bailey
