George Paul Barti

MAY 8, 1931 - JAN 3, 2017

George P. Barti, age 85 of Milton, DE, passed away Tuesday, January 3, 2017 at Beebe Medical Center in Lewes, DE after suffering a cardiac arrest.

He was born George Bartolomucci to Adam and Mary Bartolomucci on May 8, 1931 in the Bronx, NYC. During the Korean War, he served in the army in Alaska, where the greatest danger he faced was a 7.8 magnitude earthquake.

He worked days and went to school at night to earn a degree from Hofstra University. That turned into a 40-year financial career as V.P. of Operations for Xerox and Ricoh corporations. In 1975, he consulted for New York City to help it avoid bankruptcy.

He could operate an adding machine at blurring speed without looking at the keys. He was known for his level-headed advice and quick sense of humor. And, although not a gifted athlete, he never missed an opportunity to pitch for the little league team or hack it up on the golf course.

He will be dearly missed by his wife of 57 years, Rosemarie, his daughter Elissa, his sons John and Michael and his five grandchildren.

A Memorial Service will be held at 3:00 PM on Tuesday, January 10, 2016 at Parsell Funeral Homes and Crematorium, Atkins-Lodge Chapel, 16961 Kings Highway, Lewes, DE, where friends may visit beginning at 2:00 PM.

Instead of flowers, the family suggests contributions in George's memory to the American Heart Association @ <http://tinyurl.com/GeorgeBarti>.

Please sign the online guestbook.

A Xerox ad just played on TV and I was instantly transported back to my 10 yrs working for George in Greenwich, CT in the XEEP dept. followed by a year with him at Ricoh. I "googled" George's name and read the sad news of his passing. My memories are fond of this financial wizard, who could sleep through a meeting with his eyes open! He had one of the driest quickest senses of humor and kindest hearts. I remember after work one time, I needed a few dollars for Happy Hour...I went to George's office, knocked and said "Dad, can I borrow $10?" We both cracked up...but that is how comfortable many of us felt around George...while he had our respect and regard as our boss he also had the affection and genuine love from many of us who worked with him. (And yes...I got the $10). The days of a workplace like George's created are sadly long gone or at least few and far between. I will always be grateful that my career began with the mentorship of this kind, warm, understanding, funny, brilliant family man and business genius, Mr. George Barti. I am so sorry for your loss...and for the tardy condolences. With love, Joyce Pettitt

George's Legacy: Living, loving, laughing and partying in Granite Springs; Skiing in Vermont; summers in Old Lyme; cruising to Bermuda; vacations to Florida - more memories than we can count and always fun. There was our favorite joke about Turkey, Albania and Greece - we always giggled. George was kind, he was wise and always a devoted husband and father and a true friend; plus he could handle Rose and the harem which says it all. Our hearts hurt. We love you and will miss you George. Diane & Gary Colletti

George Barti was a hell-of-a guy. Filled with life, he was the fellow you immediately gravitated to in a social setting. When an invitation to a cocktail party came, the first question was, "will George be there"? The event would be a success for George's presence, whether in Manhattan, or Westchester, the shores of Old Lyme Connecticut and ultimately in Lewes where George and his darling wife Rosemarie retired along with his harem: Rose's charming mother and her mischievous aunt. Being surrounded by "the girls" in his life provided excellent fodder for his clever wit and side-splittingly funny cocktail-hour vignettes. An accomplished and humble fellow to be sure, he was proud of his wife and children and spoke little about himself, other than entertaining self effacing anecdotes. A gentleman's gentleman. RIP George.
