I remember my first conversation with Mrs Reynolds as if it happened yesterday. I was 5 and was at Lehman's Market and walked to Troy's house with Troy when we got to the house she asked me if my mom knew where I was and I replied No. She looked at me and with a mothers voice said You better walk back home and tell your mom where your at before she starts to worry where you are. Troy and Bill my deepest condolences to your and your families on the loss of my mother.

Troy and Bill, I was so sad to hear of your Mom's passing, it makes my heart hurt for all of you. I recall great memories of her and your Dad, when we were in junior high and high school in the fire department. Both of your parents were such sweet and precious people. Favorites of mine from our younger years, 100 percent plus, great role models for us in society and the fire department. Sometimes people don't realize the huge impression and difference they make even when the time is brief in someone's life, for me it was huge, thank you God for allowing me to know Troy's and Bill's Mom and Dad. Rest In Peace Peggy, you are reunited with Bill in the joyous prescience of God. God bless all of you, Lisa (Cornwell) Robinson-Daniel
