It is difficult for me to comprehend that it's been more than six years since Jen passed, and nearly two decades since I last saw her smiling face. Jenn had an extraordinary - if all too brief - impact on my life, and I still think of her often (certainly every time I see anything involving unicorns). She was good and kind and caring, a wonderfully warm person with an infectious laugh and a smile that lit up the room. My life was better because she was a part of it. Thank you, Ms. Cindy, for bringing such a thoughtful and compassionate daughter into this world. Sending Jenn endless gratitude and love for all eternity.Sincerely,Jen Caffrey

Hey Jenn, it's Brandon. I was just thinking about you. This is my 2nd post here, the 1st one was difficult & took me a month or two to post after hearing. I think of you often. As I always have, since the day we met. I miss you so much. Not having you here feels...unreal. You were(are) such a special person and as said, this world just isn't as good without you. I'm sorry I wasn't there this time when you needed me, as I had always been. When we lost touch in 2015 I truly just hoped for the best. I didn't know where you were, only knew that you knew where my house was. So i felt if you needed me,a friend,help or just to talk. Knowing you were always welcome you would just show up. Anyway, thinking about the good things. Your smile, your laugh, your heart & warmth. How sweet,compassionate & giving of yourself to others. Truly selfless. I wish we were walking by the river holding hands, like we used to. I'll always be thinking of you and know you will keep an eye on me. @)--`--,----Love always, Brandon Hey Jenn. I just recently foundout about your passing. Just before thanksgiving and I,ve been spending hours of each day since thinking about you. When we lost touch in 2015(for the 1st time since meeting eachother in 98') after a while I just hoped you moved to get away and start fresh. I have & will miss you so much. We always had a special relationship even if when we weren't together or dating. You were always welcome in my home. Only person who wasn't required to follow my fanatical rule of calling first :)You will always be special to me. You were always beautiful, inside and out. Such a loving & caring person. You will always hold a piece of my heart and I love you very much. I wish you were here right now so I could talk with you. This world truly is a lesser place without you. I will write again soon, to share some of our memories together. Watch over me.Love always in all ways.

Hello Ms. Cyndi. I'm so very sorry for your loss. Truly. I wish I would have known so I could've been present. To pay my respects & share my words on Jenns behalf. I'm commenting here since I am here. I had & do plan on looking for your number and calling to reachout & speak with you. Obviously,you being her mother, you know how special,how beautiful of a person she was. Know that she touched peoples lives, was loved and respected. Hope to speak with you soon. Again, I am truly very sorry for your loss. You have my sympathy aswell as my prayers.

She picked butterflies and a white and pink coffin,,just like her to be colorful!!!! So watch for her,,,,and the garden now has grown for she loved flowers and butterflies!!!! miss you love you!! mom

Finally someone from IND made it right...you know I'm not on facebook or tech savy, so when you passed I reached out to IND and was told they would put out the info of the memorial etc...but the person resigned, Then it was like what do I do, but I kept reaching out via emails till finally someone understood my sadness, disappointment and hurt by just putting your name in the IND paper and spelling it wrong almost several months or more after the service. But finally someone understood my concerns because you were and still are a beautiful person and you did touch so many lives at school and outside in the world... so I thank Ms.Christine Szala and Anne for their help and understanding!!! It took 2 days to do this!!! sorry !!!!love mom

Cindy & Dale,I cannot imagine anyone having to face the death of their child. I was shocked when I heard this news and so saddened thinking about how much your hurting right now. I know we lost touch many years ago, however I'll always remember the fun times with you and Jennifer at Bethany Beach. Try to keep all of Jennifer's memories, pictures and stories close to your heart and hopefully this will help you get through such a troubling time! Life doesn't make sense and losing someone so dear like your daughter is simply heartbreaking. I'm at a loss for words but will keep you and your family in my prayers. Love,Peggy Guiou
