"For Frank"God saw a cure was not to be, so He put his arms around youAnd whispered, "time now to come to me"With tearful eyes we watched you, and although we love you dearlyWe were unable to have you stay.A golden has heart stopped beatingand working hands are now at restGod broke our hearts to proveHe only takes...THE VERY BESTand so when our days are sad and lonelyand everything seems to go wrongWe hear you come whisper to us"Cheer up, smile, and carry on"Each time we see your pictureYou smile and say "Don't cry, don't be sad. Wes is already missed at work everyday. Our crazy humor, laughs, and utter nonsense are what makes our days better and Wes was a big part of that. We will carry on with a small piece of our hearts & lives missing but remembering. You are gone much too soon. RIP our Brother, we will take it from here.

Wes was a good friend and co-worker that will be sorely missed. I will miss your emails, text messages and A/C phone calls. At work you sure knew how to cheer up a person in your own special way. I could always rely on Wes whenever I needed help weather with a project or that special work order. I trusted his knowledge, judgement and wisdom as well as his advise. Wes was one of the best Maintenance Officers that you could ask for, and I was greatfull to have him on our team SCIM. RIP. Ron Zawora

My dear Weston We lost contact for a few years but I can't tell you how blessed and grateful I am to have gotten to know you all over again this last year. You were the funniest, sweetest most gracious guy I have known in a really long time. I remember when you refused to do your chores as a kid and me n Tammy would chase you around the house trying to get you to do them before your mama came home from work so no one got a butt whoopin lol I'm so grateful and happy that you found your calling in life. Hunting, widdling, and making people laugh. You had so many plans for this next year but clearly you were needed for a new calling. Fly high cousin. Love you to the moon n past the stars n back again xoxo love always sissy
