My name is Carol Sullivan. My mom, Velma Erickson was friends with Peggy and Casey when I was maybe 10 in Norfolk Virginia, so that would be about 50 years ago. Casey gave my mom one of his original paintings of the Norfolk Shipyard and I loved it. My mom gave that painting to one of my brothers and it was destroyed when a leak behind the wall on which it hung damaged it. I remember shopping at a thrift store many years later and happened upon one of Casey's paintings, which started my search for a print of the painting I loved so much. Today, I have many prints of Casey's drawings. I don't know what prompted me to search for Peggy today, but, am very saddened at her passing. My mom passed in 2013, so I feel your loss and hope she lived a long and happy life.

I was a friend of Casey's for many years and was in their home several times. Peggy was always friendly and gracious to me when visiting. Unfortunately, I lost contact with her after Casey died and I'm saddened to just learn of her passing. I have many, many prints in my home of Casey's and I think of him and her each time I pause to study and enjoy each painting. Dave George Franklin, Va.
