Walter Scott Watson Jr.

FEB 6, 1932 - OCT 9, 2019

Walter Scott Watson, Jr., 87, passed away Wednesday, October 9, 2019, at his home in Rehoboth Beach. He was born in the District of Columbia, son of the late Walter Scott and Nancy Adams Watson. Prior to retiring, he resided in Chevy Chase, MD, and Alexandria, VA. He graduated in 1950 from the Saint Albans School for Boys and attended George Washington University. He served in the Navy reserve from 1950-1956. Following employment at Eastman Kodak Stores and Vitro laboratories, he received his degree of associate in Business Administration from Benjamin Franklin University in the District of Columbia. After relocating to Rehoboth Beach, he worked as part-time comptroller at the Seaside Country Store, in Fenwick Island, and volunteered at the All Saints Thrift Store and the Delaware Seashore State Park. He is survived by his loving wife, Mary Bryan-Watson, of Rehoboth Beach; his sons, Scott M. Watson of Philadelphia, Pa., and W. Keith Watson of Louisiana; his daughter, Katherine Williamson, of Rockville, MD; three step-sons, Bradley Miller, Jeffrey Miller, and Mark Miller; twelve grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren. A memorial service will be held at All Saints Episcopal Church, on Olive Avenue, in Rehoboth Beach, DE, at 12:00 noon on Monday, November 4, 2019.

FLORIST NOTE: PLEASE HAVE ALL FLORAL ARRANGEMENTS DELIVERED DIRECTLY TO ALL SAINTS CHURCH, BY 11:30 AM, MONDAY, NOVEMBER, 4.

I remember mr. Watson from school at Benjamin Franklin U. He was very smart and personable, taught me some Arabic besides Accounting!! He used to talk about his old Chevy, his work at Eastman Kodak, and living in Chevy Chase. I lost track of him through the years unfortunately and missed his company. I was glad to learn he ended up in a great area near the beach and that he did well and must've enjoyed life 🌈 I will miss him but will always remember our wonderful conversations.
