Jack's life changed a little, when his Dad remarried to my Mother, Jack was always very generous and kind to us and his caring for our Dad and my mother was an example and testament to the passage of Honor your parents, But, being the son or our Dad who would of expected anything less of Jack, I know caring for the elderly is one of the most difficult jobs in life, and Jack always embraced it as a Labor of Love, RIP and I know the Lord told you Well done good and faithful servant!

I will miss my talks with Jack and the many times we were able to discuss the many things he loved at Conley's. The church will miss all the work he did behind the scenes and never expected any thing in return. Thank you for getting the cross to be lite up. My family will miss you and your great gift to talk to people.

Jack, my cousin, was a giant of a man in intellect, compassion, morality, in fatherhood and patriotism. He loved his family and his country. He is irreplaceable.
