Mandy was not long out of HS when She worked along side of me in Managment for Wendys. She had a laugh that was so loud, contagious,And heard from the back of the store.She was a jokster yet took her Job serious,A Loving person yet would set you straight.She talked about her nieces like they were her own kids and She loved no one more then her Mom.She once told me When I grow up (I laughed and said you are grown up)She said yea well one day I'm going to be rich and give My Mom everything She wants.I remember that darn laugh at 1am closing a store and I'd say Mandy Im so tired, She'd say its to early to be tired and pull some kind of prank.She could make me laugh one minute and cry another when She would get personal about life in general. She would talk to me late at night and all it took was mention her Sisters and a conversation on family would go on for hours.Mandy was a good girl with hopes in life that I knew She would acomplish.Her Mom, Sisters and their Children were her world.Love you Mandy.Watch over us.

I met Amanda at jr schugel. She was my trainer and we hit it off right away. She has been one of my best friends since we met. My wife always referred to her as my "work wife". I feel a huge loss in my life without her we talked every day several times a day for hours on end. We laughed we cried and tried to help each other with our problems of the moment. I will and am missing my little sister as I have always referred to her. Rest in peace my dear friend

This is one of the hardest loves I've lost. Mandy was my soulmate, I always told her since we were 9 years old. We shared so much together in our life that it's going to be hard to get over such tremendous loss. I love you so much Mandy. I never got that rock from Cali or the salt from Utah but you will always be in my heart and I will always cherish what we had together. This ones for the girls my love. ❤️
