“ I had not seen her famous posts about politics since Christmas and was shocked when I checked her FB page. Someone was kind enough to tell us that she had passed. She changed my life back in the early 90s. I'm as "clean" of my pain, as she would tell us to aim for, as I can be now because of her. I owe so much to her and will miss her very much.

“ Thirty years ago this wonderful person and gifted therapist entered my life. She knew me better than I knew myself at that time. With her expert facilitation, today I am living my best life. She will always live in my heart for the life-altering role she played in my journey to healing and wholeness. R. I. P., dear Barb, I am missing you and always will. Until I can laugh with you again.

“ I had the honor of working with Barbara for many years. I met her at Sierra Tucson program in Arizona in 1991 where we became friends and remained connected over all these past years. We traveled together, found new restaurants along the way and spent a lot of time as fellow sunbathers. She was a remarkable therapist, great fun to travel with, it's an honor to have known her as my friend. Barbara was an avid movie goer, loved her flowers and was a great mother to her son. She had a spiritual light that she cherished. Goodbye to you, my friend, I am blessed to have known you. Sincerely, Cyndi Collier. Palm Desert California

“ About 50 years ago Barb was room mates with Helen Cunningham and they lived in a trailer park

.Later they rented a house on Indian River which had a great view. Like many single teachers they entertained and had great parties. We also took some trips together and really enjoyed hanging out.

Barb was a lot of fun to be with and she had some very firm convictions. After she got married I only occasionally saw her but always enjoyed catching up with her.

She had a great smile and laughing eyes.

RIP my friend

“ Barb was my friend and mentor. She was the strongest and most independent woman I have ever had the pleasure to know. I will always love and keep your words of advice close to my heart.
