Chris was well known in the Lewes and Rehoboth areas after working in several restaurants, including Heirloom, the Purple Parrot, Blue Moon, Fish On and the Frog Pond.

Chris appreciated the good things in life: love, family, friends, good food and drink. Above all, he cherished time spent with those he held most dear. Chris was a wonderful and dedicated husband, son, brother, uncle, and friend. Loved by many, he will be deeply and genuinely missed by all who knew him.

“ Chris was just four years old or thereabouts when the family bought a vacation home next to ours in Lazy Lake in Milton. Wanda and I moved from there in 1987 to Lewes.

The next time we saw Chris was only about 5 to 8 years ago when he saw him working at Fish On in Lewes.

We saw him several times after that - always with a smile on his face and a pleasant greeting. What a great guy.

I'm sure the family will miss him. A special note of sympathy to Marie - so sad and we will remember Chris in our prayers.

“ Dear Chris, Obviously, you were too good for this earth right now. Your beautiful spirit is required in a better place where your kindness and compassion can serve to guide and to teach us all how to treat each other the way you treated people. I remember the last time I surfed with you down at IRI about a year ago. It was a cold day, and you were bareback, everyone else in full suits. You were out there for hours catching wave after wave. It was beautiful watching you. You said you had to take advantage of every moment. I admired you for your strength and endurance.

Rest easy my friend.

Condolences to Julie and to all his family and friends.

“ I did not know Chris very long, but I did not have to in order to realize what a fine young man he was. I spoke with him several times at Indian River Marina where he could be seen on his time away from the ER which is where I first met him. My wife had 2 Emergency Room visits to Bebe and Chris was her attending nurse both times. He was awesome to my wife with his reassuring professional manor and put her at ease during her treatment. I later thanked him at the Marina for being my wife's private nurse.
Rest in Peace Chris, you will be missed.

“ Chris was one of a kind. I remember a trip we took to the outer banks and Chris drove the CJ down in 40degree weather with just a bikini top. He got there freezing. On the trip a bunch of us decided to take the jeep for a joy ride and see about doing a beach drive. Well we got it stuck. After getting pulled out we drove it home in first gear and thought we broke his jeep. When we pulled up he came out we explained the situation and he laughed at us and told us he rigged it for the four wheel drive and we did not break it. It was classic. But he was one hell of a guy always smiling. I'll miss you brother but I know you'll be watching over all of us.

“ Chris's smile could light up a room. I remember his excitement about Julie. I'm so glad that he met the love of his life and was able to experience that love. Chris always had a kind word, a positive way about him, and I know whenever I saw him around it just made me feel warm, and so glad I knew him even just a little bit.

I will miss seeing him. He was definitely a special soul. May he Rest In Peace.

“ Chris Wagner, what a great guy, you will truly be missed. Your fight and determination to win against cancer are an example to all. I will always cherish my times fishing with you and your Dad. Remember the time we caught more than 50 large stripers in half hour. God bless you and your family. You will not be forgotten but will live long in our hearts.
