“ Grandma,
We will always remember your boundless love and enthusiastic support in all our family's endeavors.

From my earliest memory of waking up in a crib upstairs to the countless Sunday dinners and Christmas mornings with you and Grandpa, your home was an amazing place full of love, attention, and amusing activity.

And you extended your love, becoming Grandma to each of our family's additions. And let us grow by sharing your special friendships with us.

With immeasurable dignity, you shaped who we are, teaching us right from wrong, and how to stand up for ourselves with grace and confidence.

Whether as a child taking tentative steps toward new challenges, as a young man looking up to find your face in the stands, or as adult navigating the challenges of life and family, your presence and support were always felt no matter the distance. And continues to be felt, with us always, as you move on to your next journey.

With all of our love and respect, we thank you Grandma.

Love,
Chris and Visnja
